We Are Ready to Make Data Count

Daniella Lowenberg

We Have a Responsibility to Make Data Count

and you can start now

Make it a priority

Resourcing, funding, and community accountability for data citation implementation/infrastructure needs to be prioritized. Advocate for implementation of doing something rather than waiting.

Make it open

Data citations need to be open, transparent, and auditable. The community can build off of existing infrastructure.

Make it evidence-based

Citations need to be contextualized. Support research into the correct indicators for data, supply comprehensive metadata, and hold back from defaulting to metrics that work for articles